Says He Doubted Financier's Statement

Estes Mentioned Deal With Johnson, Associate Testifies

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—An indicted associate of Billie Sol Estes testified Friday that the Texas financier mentioned giving part interest in a grain elevator to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Almost in the same breath, the associate, Coleman T. McSpadden, said he doubted the truth of Estes' remark.

McSpadden said the promoter dropped the Vice President's name in connection with plans to build a giant grain terminal at Hereford, Tex.

When Estes was asked how the project was being financed, McSpadden said he replied, "For one thing, I'm giving one-eighth interest to Lyndon Johnson."

A assistant to the Vice President Washington that neither Johnson nor his family ever had any business dealings with Estes, even indirectly.

"He was never offered, directly or indirectly, any interest in a grain elevator by Mr. Estes," Reedy said. "He did not, directly or indirectly, receive any interest in a grain elevator from Mr. Estes. He never discussed any interest in a grain elevator with Mr. Estes."

The testimony came during the second day of a court inquiry that continued today to seek more information from McSpadden and two other former associates of Estes, the now-bankrupt king of farm finance.

Awaiting calls to continue testimony were Harold E. Orr, 31, president of Superior Manufacturing Co.; Ruel W. Alexander, 36, vice president, and McSpadden, 45, majority stockholder in Superior an Amarillo tankbuilding firm.

Counsel for Commercial Solvents corp., which sold anhydrous ammonia worth millions for distribution by Estes, had sought and failed to win a state court order to prevent the inquiry.

Commercial Solvents contended that the inquiry, eighth of a series in various cities, would hamper its defense against a state anti-trust suit based on the Estes empire's rise and fall.

McSpadden testified earlier that Estes had told him about spending $100,000 a year to maintain a favorable "situation in Washington" but gave no details about where the money went.

McSpadden said "it like to scared me to death" in July 1961, when Estes told him their operations had drawn FBI investigation.

Estes reassured him, however, that "I've got 'em pulled off," McSpadden testified.

McSpadden said the names of three former U.S. Department of Agriculture officials, since dismissed or resigned because of links with Estes, "came up over and over again" in his conversations with the Pecos, Tex., promoter.

He said the men mentioned were William E. Morris, Emery E. Jacobs and James T. Ralph.

Recognition of Junta In Peru By U.S. Is Seen

Military Announces Plans To Release Ousted President

WASHINGTON (AP)—The way may be clearing for eventual U.S. recognition of Peru's military government.

Administration officials here learned with interest Friday night of reports from Lima that Peru's military junta was preparing to free ousted President Manuel Prado from custody aboard a navy transport.

The reports came some hours after speculation arose in Washington that the United States was reconsidering its tough position on relations with the military group, which ousted Prado in a bloodless coup July 18.

The State Department has refused to say whether U.S. Ambassador James Loeb, who had been criticized by the junta, would return to his post. Diplomats here said Loeb presumably would not be sent back to Peru. He was summoned here earlier in the week for consultation.

The United States had hoped for a quick commitment by the junta to an early election and some signs of a return to civilian authority. Whether these develop-

Marine Slays Own Daughter

Enraged Corporal Beats Wife, Son

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—A Marine corporal returned home from a year's service overseas and was dismayed to find that his children didn't recognize him.

Authorities said this led to a tragedy which ended Thursday with the father charged with murder, one child dead, another fighting for life, and the wife bruised and beaten.

Deputy Coroner Leon J. Schmidt of San Bernardino County gave this account:

"Cpl. John G. Weber is 23, a tall, slim, nice-looking young man, fairly intelligent, with no police record. (He formerly lived in Portsmouth, Ohio).

"He had been overseas for a year. He returned in May and was stationed at the Marine base at Twentynine Palms.

"He and his wife, Emma Lou, had two children—a girl, Cheryl Ann, 10 months old this month, and a boy, James Gregory, now 22 months.

"When he came back from overseas the children didn't even know him. He was greatly disturbed that they wouldn't come to him, and from time to time he would get mad about this and slap him around . . .

"It was a vicious circle. The more he would mistreat the children, the more they would try to stay away from him, and the more they ran from him the more he would become enraged.

"Apparently on Tuesday he had beaten the little boy. Then, Wednesday, his day off, he was at the couple's home in Twentynine Palms (a desert city north of San Bernardino) and he had been drinking.

"About 6 p. m. his wife told him she couldn't stand it any more, that she couldn't go on living like that, and that she was leaving him and taking the children.

"Weber went berserk. He started beating the children and kicking them and throwing the furniture around."

Mrs. Weber, 20, tried to flee with the baby girl. Schmidt said Weber grabbed her, pulled her back, beat her, and continued his rampage until the girl was unconscious. Only when he tried to revive her and failed did he let his wife call police.

The girl was dead of multiple injuries when a doctor arrived. The boy was taken to a hospital in critical condition with a possible skull fracture and other injuries. Mrs. Weber, stunned, could barely tell investigators what had happened.

Friday Weber was arraigned on a murder charge and a preliminary hearing was set for Aug. 6.

Bella Controls Philippeville

Occupation Lauded By City's Citizens

ALGIERS (AP)—Troops loyal to dissident Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella have occupied the east Algerian seaport of Philippeville.

Entry of the pro Ben Bella units into the city 70 miles northeast of Constantine was carried out Friday night amid demonstrations of support by the population. Both French and Algerian sources confirmed the occupation today.

The new military move came as Algeria's rival political factions were reported moving toward a settlement of the leadership dispute dividing the fledgling North African nation. It remained to be seen what effect it would have on the political talks.

Ben Bella forces already are in control of two other cities in eastern Algeria—Bone and Constantine—and of the western Algerian metropolis of Oran and the surrounding area.

Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda of the Algerian provisional government is established in Algiers, but his administration was under heavy pressure from the Ben Bella advances.

There was no immediate indication of how many troops occupied Philippeville.

The troop movement would indicate that Ben Bella followers have violated a tacit agreement of Wilaya commanders not to let their units cross into another zone's territory.

In Algiers, Premier Ben Khedda was reported going ahead with negotiations with Ben Bella's right-hand man, Mohammed Khider.

Khider also contacted officials of the influential Algiers autonomous zone, so far loyal to the Ben Khedda regime.

The zone command said it assured Khider "of its will to work

Patrol Cites 4 After Mishaps

Woman Has Legs Broken In Crash

Mrs. Mildred E. Lewis, 47, of Rogers, is in "fair" condition at Youngstown South Side Hospital with injuries suffered in a two-car crash at 2:10 this morning at the junction of Rts. 7 and 46 between Columbiana and New Waterford.

Mrs. Lewis was brought to Salem-City Hospital, then rushed to South Side where she is being treated for compound fractures of both legs and bruises and lacerations of the left arm.

The driver of the other car, Sidnor J. Boydston, 25, of 28 Duquesne St., Columbiana, received a laceration of the lower lip, a bump on the head and abrasions of the arms and hands, but he declined hospital attention, the State Highway Patrol reported.

Boydston was arrested for reckless operation. The Patrol said he was traveling west on Rt. 46 when his car struck the side of Mrs. Lewis' auto which was southbound. The Rogers woman's car then struck a guard rail on the southwest corner of the intersection.

Both vehicles received extensive damage.

Three motorists were cited by the Patrol following two accidents on area highways Friday.

Cars operated by Kenneth Knecht, 17, of Sebring, and Dean Wilson, 34, of RD 1, Salem, collided at the junction of Rt. 165 and the Seacrest Rd., about five miles northwest of Salem, at 11:15 last night.

Knecht was cited to Mahoning County juvenile court and Wilson was arrested for driving without a license.

According to the Patrol, Wilson was stopped for a stop sign when Knecht, traveling west on Rt. 165, came up over a rise and slid into the rear of the Salem man's auto.

Louise Goodman, 36, of New Castle, Pa., was arrested for speeding excessive for conditions after she lost control of her car on Rt. 62 and struck a guard rail about a mile north of Salem at 2:50 p.m.

Her car ran off the left side of the road just after she had passed another vehicle, the Patrol reported. Three guard rail posts were torn out.

Miss Ohio Contest To Be Held Tonight

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Miss Ohio, the young beauty who will represent the Buckeye State in the annual Miss America competition, will be selected here tonight.

Twenty-one girls are entered in the statewide contest for which judging began Friday night. Divided into two groups, one section performed in talent competition and the other appeared in bathing suits and evening gowns. Each group will compete in the other category tonight prior to the Miss Ohio selection.

Stalemate Hit By Britain On Market

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Britain's bid to enter the six-nation European Common Market hit its biggest snag early today. Talks deadlocked on the key issue of Britain's agricultural imports from British Commonwealth nations. Efforts to break the stalemate will resume next week.

"No advance at all has been made," a British spokesman said after the session ended.

Sources said the French especially had raised the biggest roadblocks against British attempts to assure Commonwealth nations a market for their agricultural products in the European trade group. President Charles de Gaulle is described as cool to British entry into the Common Market.

"There is no doubt about it that the French are negotiating as if the British were standing with their back against the wall," one delegate said.

However, chairman Eugene Schaus of Luxembourg said the talks will resume Wednesday and

Demands Reversal of Inspection Policy

U.S. To Challenge Russia on Test Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is planning a new strategy for the nuclear test ban negotiations at Geneva, beginning with a blunt challenge to Russia to reverse its stand against international inspection safeguards.

President Kennedy and his advisers are reported ready to offer concessions in Western conditions for a test ban treaty based on new scientific information on the detection of sneak underground nuclear explosions.

But administration leaders have decided that there is no point offering these concessions unless the Soviet Government is prepared to enter into serious negotiations on the whole inspection issue.

Kennedy has called U.S. Ambassador Arthur Dean home from the Geneva disarmament conference. The action was announced following a White House meeting Friday between Kennedy and his principal advisers on the nuclear arms race and test ban treaty problems.

Dean, according to plans reported to have been mapped at Friday's conference, will be given full information on the new U.S. scientific findings to take back to Geneva at the end of next week.

This information, according to the recent Defense Department announcement, shows that with new instruments underground explosions may be detected over distances running into many hundreds of miles. Some advances also have been made in distinguishing between earth shocks due to nuclear blasts.

In the recent past, the United States and Britain, as the main Western nuclear powers, proposed 19 internationally staffed control posts on Soviet territory. The task

Chicago Post Office Houses Dope Ring

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's acting postmaster says additional arrests of narcotic-addicted postal employees can be expected since the disclosure Thursday that some workers were using the main post office as a market place for dope-peddling.

Harry H. Semrow said Friday that he had ordered a survey of the 20,000 main post office workers to see how many were addicts—and what to do with them. An investigation has also been ordered for the 5,000 employees of substations in Chicago.

On Thursday, a federal grand jury returned indictments against 38 persons—all Negroes—for the sale and transfer of narcotics. Thirty were employees of the main post office.

Four others were former employees and the remaining four had no connection with the federal branch.

On Friday, 11 of those indicted pleaded not guilty and asked for continuances until next week. Twenty-two were released on bond and all but three were set at $1,000.

Besides the 30 indicted workers, 125 to 150 other employees admitted Friday that they were users of heroin, marijuana, cocaine and other forms of dope.

The dope ring was uncovered after a lengthy investigation by federal narcotics agents who posed as roving mail clerks.

A Narcotics Bureau official said Friday that there may be thousands of addicts employed at the post office. His estimate was based on statistics published in Washington, which indicate 80 percent of Chicago's underprivileged population used some form of dope.

Remedies For Hiccups

The remedies that have been suggested for hiccups are unlimited. Everyone has hiccups now and then, and everyone has had "helpful suggestions" from friends and acquaintances on how to stop them.

Hiccups are spasmodic contractions of the diaphragm. They occur in healthy people spontaneously or from trivial causes. In rare cases hiccups will continue for long periods and control becomes difficult. In these instances, medical attention is required.

Babies often hiccup after rapid feeding, or swallowing of air. Sometimes hiccups are noted along with neurosis and with certain diseases, such as flu.

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, offers several suggestions for curing the hiccups:

1. — In the case of babies, administer sips of warm water; take the child in your arms, patting his back.

2. — One of the best remedies for simple hiccups in older children and adults is to lie down and relax.

3. — Other measures that sometimes help include: Drink water slowly, trying both warm and cold water if necessary; if an upset stomach sets off the hiccups, take a teaspoonful of baking soda in water breathe in and out into a paper bag, so that the carbon dioxide level in the blood is raised.

The important thing in stopping the hiccups is to relax, and any prudent thing that helps the subject relax and gets his mind off the hiccups may be helpful.

There are occasional cases in medical history of individuals whose hiccups have persisted for hours or days. If hiccups don't go away after a reasonable period, say, an hour or two, call your doctor.

Butler Meeting Held

Twenty-seven members and six guests were present when Butler Grange met Wednesday with Master Lee Whinery presiding. Balloting for two candidates was held, and four candidates took the first and second degrees in obligation. It was announced that the third and fourth degrees will be executed at the next meeting.

Winners in the cookie contest in the subordinate division were Mrs. Lowell Whinery, first; Mrs. Leo Cooper, second and Mrs. Olive Conser, third. Juvenile division winners were Wendy Conser, first, and Jo-An Wood, second.

Place mat awards were won by Mrs. George Walton, first; Miss Ann Walton, second; and Miss Jean Wood, third.

Members are asked to bring sandwiches and pickles to the next meeting.

Greeley Has Program

Helen Haim, home economics chairman, was in charge of the program when members of Greeley Grange met recently.

The poem "Wonderful World" was read by Perla Murray, "The Water Test," by Rena Lowmiller and "The Farmer's Wife," by Janice Hahn.

Readings given included "The Essence of Life" by Elizabeth King, "Take Time" by Elton Lowmiller and "Good Old Days" by Bessie Stonementz.

Mary Alice Murray sang "The Way of the Cross Leads Home" and a saxophone solo, "Somewhere," was played by Elaine Hahn. Lowell Smith and Cecil Hahn participated in a skit, "Heart's Delight," and 14 members presented a tableau entitled "Our Heritage."

Judges for the contests were Mrs. Harry Sherwood, Mrs. Milligan and Mrs. Vince Domencetti.

Helen Guthrie won first prize for her buffet set, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Braid won first in whole wheat, wheat germ and wheat heart breads contest and Mrs. P. M. Schandel placed first in white bread contest.

State contest winners for place mats were Earl Brown, first; Schandel, third; and Janice Hahn, fourth. Awards in the cookie division were won by Linda Schandel, first; and Esther Schandel, second.

Plans to visit the County Home as a "county community service project" were made.

Cecil King will be in charge of the past masters program at the next meeting.

Perry Has Meeting

"Recreation Safety," was the theme of the literary program when members of Perry Grange met recently in the grange hall. Bonnie Bartholow, Sharlene Lyons and Joyce Slutz sang "The Picnic Song," accompanied by Allan Schmidt, followed by a poem, "Keys of the Future," by Mrs. Glenn Bates. A piano solo was presented by Mary Hilliard and a reading, "Take the Safety Doctor Aong on the Picnic," by Ethel Duke.

Mrs. Edward Schmidt led a discussion based on a recent article in Readers Digest, "Look Before You Drown."

Members of the grange will meet Sunday at 2:30 p.m. to work on their community project.

The next regular meeting will be Wednesday evening, and those attending are requested to bring sandwiches for the lunch.

TRINITY LUTHERAN

Sunday worship, 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. Rev. Daniel L. Keister, sermon, "Graft Forgiveness in Your Heart."

Sunday School, 9:30 a.m. Robert Sell and Fred Hartman, superintendents.

Members of the grange will meet Sunday at 2:30 p.m. to work on their community project.

The next regular meeting will be Wednesday evening, and those attending are requested to bring sandwiches for the lunch.

THE OLD ADAGE

An old adage, indeed, that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." The "kids" on the farm are models of youthful efficiency. But they go a-fishin' whenever they can.

The business men, the housewives, the schoolchildren — they need their fishin' too!

But there is another way in which the old adage is true: ALL WORKING and no PRAYING leaves man a dull soul!

The God who created us never intended us to be able to get along without Him.

Our hands may sow seed, but they can't make it grow. Our minds may work out problems, but they can't solve the world's chaos. All of our efficiency hasn't brought us lasting happiness or firm hope.

But when we turn to our Christian faith, and seek its power through regular worship in our Churches — then we find the things we need and want most!

Damascus Social Notes

The annual picnic for the members of the Damascus Magazine Club was held Wednesday at Silver Park, Alliance. Thirteen members and eight guests were in attendance. There will be no meeting in August. It was announced that a trip to Stan Hywet Hall in Akron is planned for Sept. The committee making arrangements consists of Mrs. C. G. Long and Mrs. Wilson Morlan.

East Goshen

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Malmesberry entertained the Saturday Night Club at their lake Sunday. A picnic dinner was served at noon. Visiting and swimming were features of the afternoon with 40 members and families attending. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brogan of Diamond were guests.

Miss Glenda Whitacre and Miss Janet Leishman, who are on an extended trip through Canada and the United States, are now in Edmonton Alberta, Canada. They expect to attend the World's Fair in Seattle and will end their trip in San Jose, Calif., where they will teach school this fall. Miss Leishman is from Salineville.

Susan and David Whitacre of Columbus are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Whitacre. Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Getter of Scio were guests Sunday at the Whitacre home.

Mrs. O. K. Davis and three children of Riverside, Calif., are visiting her mother, Mrs. Daniel Kraft and Mr. Davis' father, Alvin Davis, here.

Rev. Weber To Preach In Presbyterian Church

Rev. William J. Weber, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Ardmore, Pa., and a former Salem resident, and his family are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Weber of Seveaken Lake, and will preach at both services Sunday morning in the First United Presbyterian Church.

According to church records only two men have entered the ministry from the local church. Lt. Jerry Rice is currently serving in the Air Force Chaplaincy in Alaska, and Mr. Weber has served in Philadelphia Presbytery since his ordination.

The Rev. Mr. Weber, took his undergraduate work at the College of the Ozarks, Clarksville, Ark., and received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Princeton Seminary, New Jersey.

FILES DAMAGE SUIT

LISBON — A suit for $15,000 for personal injuries and damages allegedly stemming from an auto accident was filed in common pleas court Friday by John Pickens.

Grace G. Thornton of Toledo, administratrix of the estate of Francis William Thornton, deceased, was named the defendant.

Pickens claims that on Aug. 13, 1960 in East Liverpool his car was struck from the rear by an auto driven by the deceased. Pickens says he suffered a whip-lash injury to his back.

The Opposition Opposes

Has John F. Kennedy lost perspective on the presidency?

Or is he being rubbed so raw by friction with Democratic members of Congress who refuse to support him that he is misrepresenting facts in the hope of gaining partisan advantage?

The President told his latest news conference that voters would have to choose in November between Republicans and a unified and active Democratic administration between 1962 and 1964.

He tried to make it appear that his problem with Congress is the opposition of Republicans, though in fact his problem is the opposition of a large and varying fraction of Democrats.

Democrats hold 262 House seats and Republicans hold 174. There is one vacancy.

Democrats hold 64 Senate seats and Republicans hold 36.

Yet with these overwhelming majorities in both houses of Congress, a Democratic presidential administration cannot muster enough votes to put a program into legislative form.

THIS IS NOT the fault of Republicans, whose traditional obligation as the minority is to oppose the majority — to make it win every legislative point on merit.

If the roles were reversed, opposition would be the role of a minority Democratic party. Such opposition is the heart and core of the two-party system, and President Kennedy knows it as well as Harry Truman knew it. Both men are professional politicians and students of political history. Yet both men have muddled the truth in this matter.

It is probable that even if Democrats could increase the size of their majorities this year the Kennedy administration would have no less trouble with its program. The root of its trouble is not opposition from Republicans but opposition from Democrats elected because they pledge themselves to fight the party's national leadership.

John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson couldn't have been elected without electoral votes of Southern states whose representatives and senators avoided his ideas in 1960 and expect to avoid them in this year's congressional votes. In all of these states, Richard M. Nixon was given substantial support though it was known in advance the Kennedy-Johnson ticket would be given all the electoral votes.

THE FACT President Kennedy should point to, instead of pointing to the Republicans as the source of his trouble, is that in these states Democratic candidates for Congress run as his foe, not as his friends.

By withholding the Democratic vote he needs, they can cripple his legislative program. They know it. He knows it. The whole country knows it. Yet President Kennedy is trying to make it appear that Republicans are his trouble.

The figures tell the story. Democrats hold 64 per cent of the Senate seats and 60 per cent of the House seats. The Kennedy administration's trouble is inability to command support among Democrats.

It has no right to expect support from Republicans. They are its legislative opponents. Their duty is to oppose, not to help John F. Kennedy cover up the weakness of the Democratic party.

Potteries' Plight

The pottery industry almost single-handedly has been fighting a constant battle for increased protection against imports and this week in Washington renewed its plea before the U.S. Tariff Commission.

The appeal came from the U.S. Pottery Association (the manufacturers) and the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery and the American Fine China Guild, two employe groups.

They are urging protection from the "escape clause" of the present tariff act, "to establish an absolute quota on an annual basis, allocated among foreign countries, or a withdrawal of all concessions and imposition of duties at a rate 50 per cent higher than the 1934 level."

Local residents might help county potteries by writing a letter of appeal to the Tariff Commission in Washington, D.C. One has only to walk in a few stores to find foreign ware for sale, competing with good Salem China Co. products, for example.

DeLuxe Farming

It may not have anything to do with that famous New Frontier rocking chair in the White House, but comfort has been brought into aspect of the old frontier — plowing land.

A farm tractor manufacturer is stressing the "easy-chair" qualities of its new model. It makes good sense, but even with modern machinery, farming is still a rugged job. The posture seat could save many strained backs.

Only trouble is, our farmers are so fantastically productive already. Think what they'll do if the chores become even just a little bit easier.

Water! Water!

By Truman Twill

You won't believe this, but the toughest problem the lady I travel with and I had in our razzoo through Britain via Paris was getting a drink of water.

Our mouths get cottony when we think about it.

We get thirsty when traveling. So do dogs, horses, camels, jackrabbits and Kodiak bears. What we mean is, we have company.

But no sooner had we put ourselves in foreign keeping than our thirst problem began to pile up. On the French plane going over, we kept wondering what was in some little metal cans in the seat pocket. We read the label and studied the picture.

It was mountain water. The same kind of little can was served with the meal. We had heard about French fondness for mineral water, but no one had told us to expect it in cans. Imagine. Canned water. From then on, we might as well have looked for it in cans as in water pitchers and water glasses.

The first thing we did when we got back home was to stand at the kitchen sink and fill up on tap water. Just plain old tap water. We were dehydrated.

The drought was not solely because these people want to sell booze either. It persisted in places in England, Wales and Scotland that had no licenses to sell booze. The trouble is they just never learned to drink water at mealtime.

When we'd gasp through cracked lips that we'd like a glass of water, they would sashay to the kitchen and come back with — one glass of water. The glass wouldn't be full either.

On one occasion we were so thirsty we couldn't wait until the tea cooled and said we'd like some water. They looked surprised and brought back more boiling water for the tea.

One of the hardest things to bear was apparently a part of the British tea ceremony. We would sit down at a restaurant table that had been set with water glasses. We would visualize the shiny glasses full of sparkling water.

But the first thing the waitress would do was remove the water glasses. We would plead with her to bring them back, and it would be plain that she was making little mental notes of how we were undermining international understanding.

The lady I travel with never is awed by things like this. She systematically made a point of demanding water. Me, I'm chicken. When in Rome . . . that attitude. Anything to improve the national image.

I swilled more wine and beer than was good for me. It's my bad luck not to care for either one. I can take 'em or let 'em alone, like castor oil.

And public drinking fountains . . .

You can go all the way across the United Kingdom of Sahara and never see one. If you do see one, it's out of repair. Yet every little town has its "Public Convenience." These are uniformly clean and handily situated. It's an idea that would add to our own towns, which leave this service to gas stations, except not everybody is driving and no everybody who's driving is short of gas. What I mean is, some cars have bigger tanks and get better mileage than others . . .

The British Public Convenience came before the Auto Age. But that doesn't explain why they don't put drinking fountains in them so parched travelers can "fill 'er up." They shouldn't be tanking up at every comfort stop with (blurb) stout, bitter, lager, and-and-ard, double whiskies and half bottles of wine. Not even with tea and cream. It isn't good for them.

It was nice to get home where the first thing they do in a restaurant is to give you a glass of water and the last thing they do is fill it up to earn their tip.

Looks Like We've Seen Our Last Cavalry Charge.

JFK's Handicap

By RAYMOND MOLEY

President John F. Kennedy has brilliantly succeeded in creating the image of an attractive personality. But his main domestic programs and plans, which he has so vigorously promoted, have fallen flat before a disbelieving public and a Congress which knows that public so well.

With equal energy Mr. Kennedy has sought the explanation for these defeats in every place except the right one.

The real reason for his failure lies not entirely in the programs which he so ardently and naively embraced — remedies wholly inappropriate to the solution of the problems for which they were designed — there is a more fundamental reason. This lies in the nature, the preparation and the experience of the President himself.

LET'S CONSIDER Mr. Kennedy and three of his top priority plans — aid to education, farm regimentation, and medicare.

When we are confronted with the complexities of the balance of payments, the status of gold, foreign aid and international trade, most of us become confused by the nature of the problems themselves, but even more so by the economic jargon which beclouds the explanation.

Even the budget confuses people, since there are so many budgets that are talked about — cash, administrative, cyclical and capital.

But when the President comes to grips with school problems, with farm economics, and with meeting the costs of medical care, his public has more down-to-earth information and deeper convictions than he has.

These are matters close to the realities of life for millions. And members of Congress, regardless of party, live among and are essentially a part of the lives of those millions.

Most of those members have shared their problems and perplexities in their own lives.

On the other hand, John F. Kennedy has never experienced the intimate, first hand, continuous contacts which might inform him. For this he cannot be blamed. It has been due to the accident of birth and experience.

HIS LIFE has been quite apart from, almost foreign to, the millions of people whose support he must have if he is to succeed. It is a deficiency which may well prove to be politically fatal.

He was born a rich man's son. This destined him to grow up in a sheltered spot, a world of opulent living peopled with obedient servants and friends of the same social status as his own.

There was no struggle to earn a living or to make ends meet.

Vacation periods were, then as now, spent in exclusive havens such as Hyannis Port and Palm Beach.

His education was provided in private school in New York, at Choate and Harvard. That pathway of learning is not crowded by people grimy from contacts with the realities of life. It is a "select" thoroughfare.

Moreover, he not only was a rich man's son, but the son of a famous man. From the time when John F. was 17 years old, he carried a name known over the land. This added to his isolation. He was Joe Kennedy's son, a celebrity even in this youth.

IN THE NAVY he served with the officers commanding PT boats. That branch of the military was commonly called a sort of Ivy League.

These were brave men willing to face death. The badge of courage can never be denied the sons of any aristocracy in any age.

The President's political career began in an area in which he had never had much contact. His life had been lived mostly in New York. When he entered the contest for Congress he rented a two-room suite in a hotel where his famous grandfather, Fitzgerald, lived.

An admiring biographer says of his campaigning: "He seemed out of place and pathetically self-conscious in the tough tenement districts of East Boston, Charlestown and East Cambridge where most of the voters lived."

His intimate associates in that campaign were old Harvard or Choate friends. But the political powers, who felt no kinship with their candidate, shrewdly appraised the value of his name and connections.

Even the political atmosphere in which Kennedy has lived since then is a sort of isolation. Vote calculations are statistical. Counts aren't made of individuals but of interest groups and the appeals are made not to the infinite variety of human life but to the appetites and purses of those statistics.

AS CONGRESSMAN, senator and president, he has met people almost wholly in the mass, in the applauding groups to whom fine words must be spoken. And now in the presidency there is the supreme isolation of the summit.

Only a person who shared the passions, aspirations, and prejudices of those who peopled his early life can break through this isolation to the heart of things. That is why the Kennedy appeals still fail to catch fire. They leave those who hear them unmoved.

In writing of Lord Rosebery, who served a brief two years as prime minister in the 1890's, Winston Churchill recalled that the Eton tutor of his subject commented that he "sought the palm without the dust."

And Churchill added: "He did not think of them (the Radical masses) thought, or feel as they felt, or understand the means of winning their unselfish and unbounded allegiance . . . he was intellectually indignant at their wrongs and sufferings. But actually, to handle them, to wrestle with them, to express their passion and win their confidence, this he could not do."

Commerce Department officials estimate that goods purchased in the United States and subsequently smuggled into Canada have an annual value of up to $50 million. In addition, the Treasury has lost customs revenues from both duty-free goods brought back by Canadian tourists and from smuggled goods.

Professor Says German Language Cracking

BONN Partition of Germany is cracking the strongest pillar of the nation's solidarity—its language. That is the sad conclusion of university professors in Bonn.

One writer thinks that though it is still all right for tourist shops abroad to announce "ici on parle Francais" for the French, for the Germans there should be two signs—"hier spricht man West Deutsch," and "hier spricht man Ost Deutsch."

The strength of the German language was Hitler's strength "Ein Volk, ein Reich, ein Führer" really meant one cosy, enormous homeland for German-speaking people. There are today very many Germans who say that only if Hitler could have stopped at bringing all German speakers together in the confines of one frontier he would have an honored name in history.

Between Schleswig-Holstein in the North and Bavaria in the South, between the North Sea coast and East Prussia, there are huge differences in the language, in dialect, in construction, and in actual words. Germans laugh at each other for what each thinks is the other's bad German, but that does not matter because it is German-made bad German. The new barrier is built by foreigners.

At first it all seems purely German. "Jugendfreund" here is a friend you had in youth (male or female); a "sportsfreund" is a team mate. In East Germany these are now official titles of members of youth organizations and sports organizations respectively.

Dr. Adenauer is, in Bonn, always respectfully described as the "federal chancellor." While an East German would understand what this means, he ordinarily sees Dr. Adenauer described as the "West German boss," if nothing ruder.

The basic law preserving the federal constitution means nothing to an East German just as the man in the West has never heard of the official word for an egg quota.

However, the influence of the English language on the Western side, and the Russian on the East, drives the wedge much deeper. A list casually compiled in one newspaper of words unlikely to be understood in East Germany includes: Teen-ager party, make-up, catchen and quizen.

Similarly, though West Germans might get "towarischtsch," they could be fooled by "obtomwerei" expressing the reprehensible ennu of the famous character in Goncharov's novel.

For foreigners it is not always easy to remember that here is one language talking about two worlds Christian and Western, Eastern and Marxist, are spoken similarly by the Dresdener and the Hamburger, but mean quite different things.

Serious students of German also complain that the whole structure of the language is being altered by dependence in the West on American and English sources, in the East on Russian.

Especially this is true of newspapers, in the West for foreign news, they depend largely on the Associated Press, United Press International and Reuters; in the East on Tass, the official USSR news agency.

The translators into German, always doing a rush job under pressure, tend to slip into the habits of the foreign language, so millions are daily influenced in their linguistic learning.

What grieves the professors most is that the Duden, for years the super-dictionary possessing a papal infallibility as regards the written German word, is now published in both Mannheim and Leipzig—and the two versions show clearly the extent of the schism. For one thing though this does not appear in either Duden, it seems unlikely that the East German will know the meaning of a verb used by one Bonn film critic—happyenden.

Modern 'Slightshot'

The Marines will use a Salem-made "slingshot" if they ever have to get their planes off the ground on short "hot" battle-built airfields.

The gadget, manufactured by the E. W. Bliss Co., is more complicated than a slingshot, but the principle is the same.

The Marine plane hooks onto the center section of a long nylon cord. The plane is held tightly in place. The two ends of the cord are fixed to drums forward of the plane. These drums are like the prongs of a slingshot. An engine or engines wind up the drums, pulling the nylon "slingshot" cord tight. When the cord is tight, the plane is released and hurtles forward.

The "slingshot" can launch a 35,000 pound plane to a speed of 145 knots on an airstrip less than 2,000 feet long.

Matter of Fact

Explanations of earthquakes have been offered by mankind as far back as we know. Primitive peoples often blamed this natural phenomenon on animals which dwelt beneath the earth. According to these explanations, a mole was the cause of an earthquake in India, a whale in South America, a catfish in Japan.

Ever think of eating a rose? Hundreds of people send roses to their favorite people, but how many have thought of eating them? Well, rose petals are used quite often in cooking; particularly, in making confections and flavoring desserts.

with all means at its disposal to find a solution that would safeguard the revolution."

Early this morning, the French aircraft carrier Lafayette dopped anchor off Algiers harbor. French military sources said the craft was there to load helicopters being evacuated to France. They stressed its visit had nothing to do with the current confused political situation in Algeria.

Earlier, the 300,000-man French army stationed in Algeria showed signs of activity again. For the first time since the Algerian independence July 3, French army patrols showed up in the streets of Algiers.

The French troops moved in after more Euro peans had been fxt er six more Europeans had been reported kidnaped by Moslems.

The move was taken as a sign that France meant business when it warned this week that it might intervene in the Algerian dispute should the lives and property of European settlers be threatened.

Algeria's leaders also were under growing pressure from the Moslem masses, weary of the squabbling that has spread chaos and confusion throughout the country. Political and trade organizations joined in the appeals.

The price of unity appeared to favor Ben Bella, who advocates sweeping social reform and close cooperation with the Communist bloc as opposed to Ben Khedda's policy of continued close ties with France.

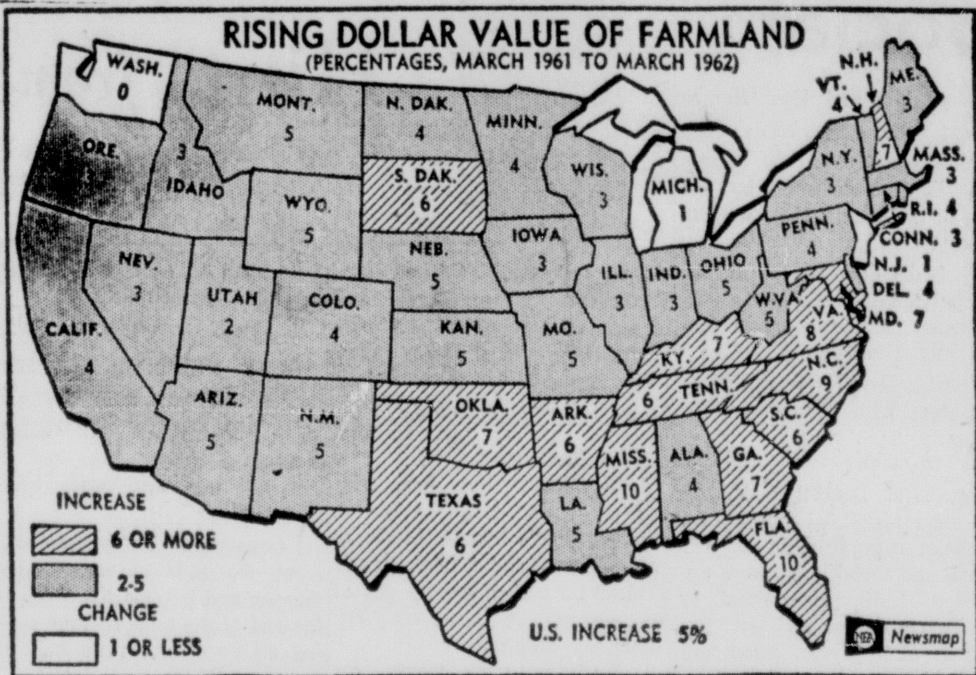

Lisbon Strike Parley Scheduled Monday

LISBON — Another meeting of the union and management of the struck Thomas plant, along with federal conciliator from Akron, will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. in village hall, according to Robert Hendricks of Lisbon, acting manager of Thomas works of the H. K. Porter Co.

The employes have been on strike since July 1 after negotiations failed to reach any agreement by the time their contract ran out.

The Thomas works makes porcelain insulators for the electric industry and employs about 140 production and 30 administrative workers. It is the largest industry in Lisbon.

D. M. Vanschoik of Salem, the plant manager, has been released from his duties here and Mr. Hendricks named acting manager.

FARMER IN THE DOUGH — Farm real estate market values reached a new peak in the spring of this year, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture. On March 1, the index of average value per acre of all farmland in the 48 continental states was 183 (1947-49=100), eight points higher than a year earlier. This 5 per cent nationwide rise boosted the estimated total value of all farm real estate by some $6 billion to $138 billion, or an average of $123.18 per acre. Newspaper above shows the percentage rise for each state. All but Washington, showed an increase during the one-year period.

Visit By Ethiopia Emperor Stirs Disaffection In Eritrea

ADDIS ABABA colony) was guaranteed local autonomy within a federal constitution in 1952.

The troubles in Eritrea are by no means the only signs of unrest in Ethiopia, however. The emperor has been sitting uncomfortably on his throne ever since half his army revolted against his rule at the beginning of 1961.

News has recently leaked out of another coup against the emperor which was planned to take place when he led his delegation to the Belgrade Conference of non-aligned states last August.

The public got news of the plot early last month when Fitanari Hailu Kibret, a former governor and a distinguished patriot leader in the struggle against the Italian, was publicly hanged with his nephew. He had been secretly tried by five judges.

It is now also known that two other prominent leaders of the regime have been under arrest since last August. The two men, neither of whom has been tried, are the Afa Negus (literally, the mouth of the king) who until his arrest was the president of the Supreme Court, and also was a famous patriot leader, and Dejazmach Takele Wolde Hara-wait who is reported to be gravely ill.

There is evidence also that other prominent citizens were either involved, or at least were suspected of being involved in the August plot. A number of well-known young leaders are said to be confined in isolated villages in the Southern Provinces of Ethiopia.

The next meeting will be Aug. 28 when the theme will be "Wild West Show."

THE LOWDOWN ON SIDECAR RACING — Varied techniques in motorcycle combination racing were shown as the Swiss team of Camathias and Burkhardt (32) led the German, Deubel and Hoerner (31), in sidecar event of West German Grand Prix at Stuttgart. Both teams had their sidecars mounted on different sides of the cycles. The German won the race.

5 Motorists Pay Fines At Lisbon

LISBON — Five motorists were fined a total of $80 and costs Friday by County Judge James L. MacDonald after being cited for traffic violations.

Bessie A. Pitts, 47, of Kensington RD, was fined $50 and costs and given 30 days in jail for driving without an operator's license. The jail sentence was suspended on condition she does of drive until she obtains a license.

James K. Watkins, 31, of Hanover RD, $10 and costs for driving left of center.

Don R. Hicks, 18, of Salineville RD, $10 and costs for driving motor vehicle without a muffler.

John H. Shaffer, 44, Salem RD, $5 and costs for driving left of center, and Howard Lewis Jr., 28, Carrollton, $5 and costs for driving truck on expired chauffeur's license.

All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Britain

expressed hope a solution would be found next week "when this difficult and fundamental problem has priority."

The current stage of negotiations is crucial for Britain because unless Commonwealth interests are provided for, political opposition at home could sink the entry bid completely.

Britain is the biggest importer of Commonwealth agricultural products, mainly from Canada, New Zealand and Australia. Britain is seeking assurances from the six that commonwealth produce will be given "reasonable access" to the common market and that prices on farm commodities will be kept low to help Britain retain her Commonwealth imports.

But the six appear determined on a high price food policy to protect their own farm economies and have said only that they will maintain "a reasonable price policy." British efforts to have "reasonable" defined have thus far failed.

persons, including a Cincinnati white youth. Stretchers were brought in to remove about 10 of the group, including 6 juveniles, when they intentionally went limp.

All were charged with disorderly conduct, congregating on the sidewalk and refusing to obey an officer.

In a statement handed out during the demonstrations, King and his associates said their protest was "a final effort to soften the heart of the City Commission."

Two Motorists Fined In Mayors Court

Two motorists were each fined $10 and costs by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer today for reckless operation.

They were Kathleen R. Baker, 22, of 552½ Washington St., and Walter S. Plues, 19, of RD 1, Salem.

Miss Baker was arrested by police Tuesday after she ran two red traffic lights on S. Ellsworth Ave. Plues was cited Friday at the intersection of E. State St. and Ohio Ave.

TWO THEFTS REPORTED

Two thefts were reported to police today. John Hollinger of the Hollinger Construction Co., RD 1, Salem, said that four squares and four braces of metal scaffolding, valued at $96, were stolen from the rear of R. S. McCulloch's, 567 E. State St., sometime this week.

Mrs. Lowell King of 1015 N. Ellsworth Ave., reported that two hubcaps were stolen from her car after 9 Friday night while the vehicle was parked in the garage at the rear of her home.

Laos Prince To Free Five U.S. Prisoners

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP — Acting Premier Prince Souphanouvong said today he has taken the first steps to release five Americans held prisoner by his pro-Communist Pathet Lao troops.

Souphanouvong said he ordered his troops to move the Americans to areas near air strips in anticipation of their release. He said he expected to have "precise information next week" on when the prisoners would be freed.

The U.S. Embassy has said the Americans known to be captive of the Pathet Lao are: Grant Wolfkill, a National Broadcasting Co. cameraman from Shelton, Wash.; John McMorrow, of Galloway, Tenn., and John Shore Jr., of Brooklyn, N.Y., civilian airmen with the charter firm Air America; Sgt. Orville Ballenger, Columbus, Ohio; and Maj. Lawrence Bailey, Laurel, Md.

Souphanouvong spoke to newsmen after his return from his former rebel headquarters at Khang Khay and a meeting with U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger. Unger had called on Souphanouvong to inquire about what had been done about freeing the prisoners as called for in the Geneva agreement that guarantees Laos' neutrality.

the firm's stock. Communications companies would own the other half.

Several senators have offered a rival bill providing for government ownership. They contend the administration measure would be a "monstrous giveaway" to a private monopoly of the taxpayers' investment in the government's space program.

With other senate business stalled by the dispute, Mansfield promised to start each day's session early and continue it into the night.

But Mansfield said the leadership is virtually powerless to force action.

If opponents persist in their filibuster, the only way under the rules to halt them—other than wearing them down physically—is to clamp a time limit on debate.

Such a rule—requiring a two-thirds majority of senators voting —has not been successfully invoked since 1927, despite numerous attempts to halt Southern filibusters against civil rights measures.

Man Pleads Guilty To Burglary Charge

LISBON — William E. Wright, 25, of Wellsville RD 1, pleaded guilty in County Judge James L. MacDonald's court Friday on a charge of breaking and entering at the home of Gay Morrell on Fife Rd. near Wellsville Wednesday afternoon.

Charges were filed by Deputy Sheriff Robert Beresford after Wright signed a statement of the burglary in which $30 in food-stuffs, a revolver, whiskey, jacket, a camera, suitcase, two electric blankets, a violin and a banjo were taken.

Wright and an East Liverpool man also are expected to be charged in the burglary of the Dan Guappone Tavern on N. Market St., Lisbon, July 16, authorities said.

4 District Persons Injured In Mishaps

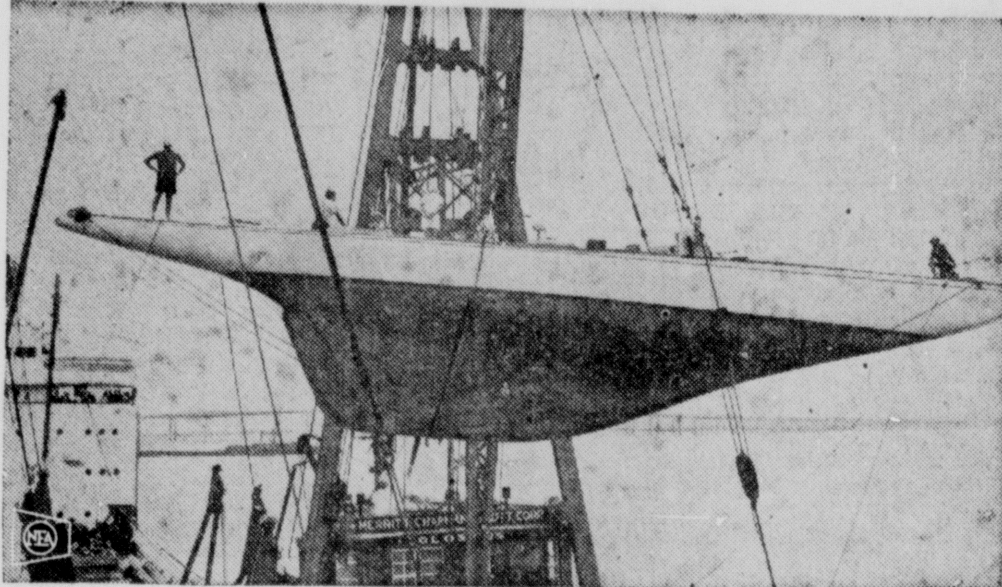

Four people were treated and released from Alliance City Hospital Friday and today as the result of minor accidents.

Peter Schwab, 22, of Damascus was treated at 5:30 a.m. today after he went to sleep while driving and hit a tree in Sebring.

Lewis Woods, 29, of RD 1, North Benton, was treated at 9:15 p.m. Friday. He had burned his left eye while drilling with a machine at the Alliance Machine Co.

Charlie Dugan, 14, of RD 2, Beloit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dugan, was taken to the hospital after he caught his index finger in a chair.

Mrs. Myrtle Bowers, 68, of RD 1, Deerfield, fell at a store in Alliance at noon. She was X-rayed and released.

CHALLENGER — Gretel is gently lowered into Newark, N. J., harbor from the deck of the City of Sydney after the Australian challenger's long journey from her home country. Gretel sailed to Newport, R. I., to represent her land in the America's Cup race.

of such posts would be to monitor earth shocks in the Soviet Union as a means of detecting evidence of suspicious earth disturbances.

The Western powers also proposed between 12 and 20 inspections a year at the site of any suspicious shock waves.

The new scientific data, Kennedy's advisers agreed, would permit the number of on-site inspections and the number of control posts to be reduced. Some scientific advisers are known to have argued that international control posts inside the Soviet Union might be safely eliminated in the interest of getting a test ban treaty.

However, the White House meeting reportedly produced an accord that it would not be good strategy for the President to send Dean back to Geneva at this stage of the disarmament conference with a complete new package proposal containing the American concessions to the Soviet opposition to inspection. They felt that since the Soviet opposition is against any international inspection whatever, the real barrier to progress lies in Moscow.

Thus, authorities said, the plan now is to present the scientific findings at Geneva in the hope that this will bring a review and revision of Soviet policies on the critical inspection issue.

ments are in the immediate offing remain in doubt, although the military announced Friday night it was restoring civil rights suspended when it seized power.

Washington suspended relations with Lima a few hours after the junta headed by Army Gen. Ricardo Perez Godoy took over. The next day, the White House issued a statement saying the military takeover was a "serious setback" to democracy. Aid to Peru under the Alliance for Progress program was halted.

In Lima, a report from Washington on a possible U.S. change of mind was received by the government as good news.

The 73-year-old Prado's 6-year term of office expires today. He is expected to go into exile in France after being released. Then, the military regime likely would seek from the Peruvian Supreme Court a declaration that it is the nation's legal governing power.

The Peruvian situation is complicated by the fear in some hemisphere nations that military revolutions in Latin America tend to be contagious.

This may be behind Venezuela's call Friday night for a conference of foreign ministers to consider problems posed by the Peruvian takeover.

Algeria, after several hundred years of Turkish rule, was conquered by the French in 1830. It was under French military rule until 1871, when a civil government was set up.

been with the Salem school system since his graduation from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1930. He has majors in English and music and taught those subjects for 17 years, later giving up music and teaching only English.

In 1957 he was named principal of Reilly elementary school here and in 1961 was named Junior High principal.

He received his master's degree in education from Kent State University in 1957 and was appointed to the Kent State faculty to teach extension courses in Warren, Canton and East Liverpool. He was director of the Salem High School marching band for several years and later became director of the American Legion Quaker City band which, under his baton, won the national championship at Miami, Fla., in 1957. During his tenure as director the band also won the Ohio Legion crown several years.

Mr. Brautigam and his wife, Martha, are the parents of three daughters and two sons, all grown.

Phillips Church Is Scene Of Turner-Kemp Nuptials

Rev. Raymond Patterson officiated at the double ring ceremony July 14 uniting in marriage Miss Margaret Edith Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Turner of RD 3, Salem, and Donald E. Kemp, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Kemp Sr. of RD 1, Hanoverton, in the sanctuary of Phillips Christian Church.

Escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore an off-white gown of peau d'ange lace and bouquet taffeta. The fitted lace bodice featured a scalloped Sabrina neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and plumb waist line. Triangular inlays of lace graced the floor-length skirt which was accented at the hipline with Dior bows and swung to a chapel train. A crown of seed pearls and crystals held her finger-tail veil of French illusion, and her cascade bouquet was an arrangement of carnations, daisies and baby breath.

Mrs. Mary Lou Walker of Minerva was matron of honor, and Miss Susan Blythe of Salem was bridesmaid. Both wore gowns of mint green chiffon and lace. Carla Darden was flower girl.

Robert Walker of Minerva was best man. Ushering were Floyd L. Kemp Jr., brother of the bridegroom, Robert Turner, brother of the bride, and Thomas Darden of East Rochester.

Mrs. Beverly Hippley, sister of the bride, registered the 250 guests who attended the reception at the home of the parents of the bride following the ceremony. A yellow and green theme dominated appointments on the bride's table which was covered with a white cloth with yellow net overskirt and centered with a three tier bridal cake trimmed with yellow rose buds and daisies with sprays of ivy.

Mrs. Margaret Bralton of North Benton, Mrs. Edith Blythe, Mrs. Sarah Bennis of Minerva, Mrs. Doris Parden of East Rochester, and Miss Karen Wank served.

The bride is a graduate of United High School. A graduate of United High School Mr. Kemp is serving in the Navy.

Mrs. Kemp will make her home at Lake Guilford until her husband completes his tour of service. Parents of the bridegroom were hosts at the rehearsal dinner at their home.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: This is an item. (Gals, she wrote me on the back of a piece of beautiful wrapping paper. Darling idea! It was yellow with designs. The inside was slick. The paper can be cut with pink scissors or just plain scissors. Can be made any size.

I don't know about your relatives but ours write to us on anything that's handy! I love to get the news and I think this is a most attractive way to get it. No use to get in a rut. Try something different.

I use terry cloth towels for wrapping vegetables to place in the refrigerator. They are more absorbent and less expensive than paper towels and can be used over and over just by tossing them in the washing machine. No ironing required, and they leave the lettuce nice and crisp for salads.

After I come home from the grocery, I take the cash register tape and circle all the figures that are not for groceries. I total these figures and subtract from the total. I then know how much I really spent on groceries.

ETTA EVERETT

DEAR HELOISE: To remove dog or cat hairs from clothes... just moisten a sponge and rub the fabric lightly.

One way to wash a crinoline petticoat is to dip it up and down in warm soap suds in the bathtub, then rinse it under the shower without wringing. Hang it by the waist band, using a skirt hanger. Or open that umbrella and put it in the tub and lay the skirts over it.

Full strength plastic starch is good if you like the petticoats real stiff.

MRS. J. N. REINIG

DEAR HELOISE: I love to change things in my home—furniture, pictures, everything. To me, it makes housekeeping more enjoyable.

I have an area behind my stove (goes up to the cabinets) and it is approximately 20 inches high. I covered the entire area with contact paper! This makes it quite washable. I have even scoured it when necessary.

When I tire of this pattern or color, I remove the paper and line a shelf with it. The paper makes a permanent shelf liner, one that won't tear and wrinkle. It's washable too.

There are so many pretty colors and designs and this gives my kitchen a new, fresh look. Cost?

Less than 50 cents a yard, and very easy to install.

CAROLE STUCK

DEAR HELOISE: The other day I was vacuuming my bath room with my tank type vacuum cleaner. I happened to look up and see our hairbrushes which were full of hair.

I removed the brush attachment from the tube of the vacuum cleaner and put the hairbrush on the end of the tube, thereby sucking all of the hairs up into the vacuum. If there is anything I hate to do it is clean hairbrushes.

LEE

DEAR HELOISE: This is for people who want to prevent steam from accumulating in the bath room. I find when they fill the tub up with water to take a bath, if they will run the cold water first, just an inch or so, and then turn on the hot water, no steam accumulates.

ETHEL BROWN

St. Patrick's Festival At Leetonia Opens Thursday

LEETONIA — The St. Patrick's Church annual summer festival will open next Thursday and continue through Sunday, Aug. 5, on the lawn and in the St. Patrick's School.

Various booths and concessions are planned and the St. Patrick's Colleens will sing Saturday and Sunday evening.

Wrestling bouts also are scheduled each evening.

The Leetonia M.Y.F. held its regular meeting Thursday evening at the Methodist Church with 20 members and two counselors present. Pam Davis read the devotion. Dianne Corna will have charge of devotions for the next meeting and Barbara Forney and Dianne Corna will furnish the refreshments. Bette Brooks is the club reporter.

THE REV. AND MRS. Robert (Joa Laughner) Secrist and daughter Virginia of Dayton flew up and landed at the Salem Airport Tuesday. They were met by Mrs. Richard Sitler and children. Virginia will be a guest of her grandparents, the Rev. and Mrs. T. P. Laughner while the Secrist are on vacation in Michigan. They flew back to Dayton in the evening, with Joan as the pilot. The round trip flying time was less than five hours.

Mrs. Rosa Cox has returned from a several days visit with her niece, Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Baker of Alliance.

William Kennedy of Pittsburgh visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy, on Thursday.

Mrs. J. R. Strosnider of Moundville, W. Va., and Mrs. Glenn Myers of Canton visited Mrs. Bernard Hinerman on Wednesday.

Mrs. Bernard Hinerman visited her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allgood and family in Struthers Thursday.

Seven tables of 500 were in play at the card party sponsored by the Rebekah Lodge Thursday evening. Mrs. Agnes Woods and Rosa Cox received a prize for high honors and special prizes were awarded to Adin Harman, Mrs. Clark McCowan and Mrs. Russell Smith.

The next benefit will be held Saturday, Aug. 4.

DECISION HANDED DOWN

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — A finding of $1,027 against Spencerville Village Council President Bert H. Pickering involving conflict of interest laws has been returned by the State Bureau of Inspection and Supervision. The finding Friday involved payment to Pickering, a contractor, for plastering work he did at the city building and other work on the waterworks and swimming pool.

ACCUSED — William E. Cobb, North Carolina Republican Chairman, has admitted leading a double life, with a legal wife and adopted son in Morganton, N.C., and another woman in Roanoke, Va., by whom he had two sons, using the name of W. Edward Cobb. Cobb said he would resign his GOP post and withdraw from the North Carolina Senate race.

LEAVE EXTENDED

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Extension of a leave of absence for Dr. Ralph W. McDonald, former president of Bowling Green State University, was approved Friday by the board of trustees. McDonald, serving with the National Committee for Support of Public Schools in Washington, was to return to Bowling Green this September. His leave was extended until 1965.

Kennedys Celebrate Jackie's Birthday

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — A flock of Kennedys got together today for a birthday celebration—the 33rd for First Lady Jacqueline.

The family made arrangements for a party tonight after taking it easy Friday—aboard boat and water skis—at this scene of many Kennedy reunions.

President Kennedy arrived Friday evening to join in the festivities and to be first to wish his wife "happy birthday."

In keeping with their custom since entering the White House, the Kennedys declared the occasion purely personal and made public none of their plans.

The President wasn't saying what he gave his wife for a present.

Warden Reports 24 Sheep Killed by Dogs

Dog Warden Russell Reichenbach of North Georgetown reported today that dogs killed 24 sheep and wounded two others July 14 at the Fred Williamson farm located on the Signal-Rogers Rd.

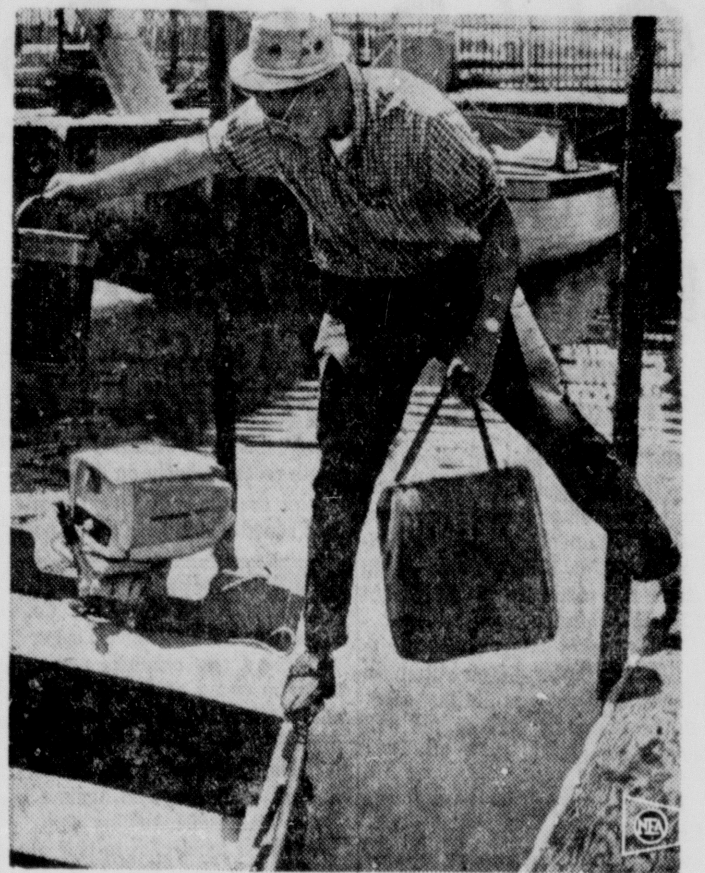

Reichenbach has placed a claim for Williamson with the county commissioners for $15 an animal, and it is expected the commissioners will act on the claim at their next meeting Monday.

Persons having dogs and letting them run after dark will be held liable for any stock killed, Reichenbach said.

Old Dutch Routs Industrial Mining In County Tourney

1961 Champs Post 17-3 Win

Four Games Carded Today, Six Sunday

Old Dutch scored in every inning to rout Industrial Mining 17-3 in a lone Columbiana County Softball Tournament game played Friday night at Kelley Park. Both clubs are members of the Salem Class AA League.

The winners slugged out 13 hits off losing hurler Satch Altomare whose fielders kept in the spirit of the game by booting the ball seven times.

GLENN MERCER hurled the first six innings for Old Dutch, limiting Industrial Mining to three runs on just four hits. Bruce Feicht mopped up with a perfect inning of relief ball.

Dick Youngpeter, Old Dutch first baseman, rapped out three singles and drew a base on balls in four trips to the plate. Feicht also carried a big bat, connecting for a single and triple and scoring three runs in three official at bats. Mercer rapped a triple in a big four-run fourth inning.

During the regular season, Old Dutch has an 11-8 record while Industrial Mining is 6-12. Old Dutch is the defending county champ.

By virtue of its victory, Old Dutch joins Shaffer Ford in the winners bracket of the double elimination tourney. Industrial Mining remains in the tournament but faces elimination with one more defeat.

Here is the county tournament schedule at Kelley Park for this weekend:

TODAY
5:30, Bliss vs Lisbon Hotel
6:45, Lincoln Machine vs Italian Club

8, Stepanic's Tavern vs Magnolia SVD-1

9:15, East Liverpool Ferlino Construction vs Odom's Sohio

Bob Allison Still Poison To Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — Minnesota slugger Bob Allison has picked up where he left off two weeks ago against Cleveland by continuing his home run binge.

Allison blasted one into the upper deck in left field Friday night off Jim Perry to give Minnesota a 2-1 triumph and bring Camilo Pascual his 15th victory of the season, most in the American League. The homer, Allison's 16th and his fifth in the Twins' last four games with the Tribe, broke up a tight pitching duel between Pascual and Perry. It came with two out and broke a 1-1 tie.

Perry pitched the first complete game for Cleveland since his 1-0, 10-inning triumph over Detroit July 4. Pascual was in trouble in the early innings, but got progressively tougher, limiting the Tribe to one single from the fifth inning on.

The Indians loaded the bases with none out in the fourth inning, but could touch the Cuban for only one run, due largely to outstanding defensive plays by shortstop Zorro Versalles and third baseman Rich Rollins.

Pascual and Perry (8-3) each gave up six hits, but Pascual had seven strikeouts, compared with Perry's two.

Barry Latman (4-6) was the Indians' mound choice today against Jim Kaat (9-9).

After the death of her first husband, Molly Pitcher (heroine of the Battle of Monmouth and whose real name was Mary Ludwig) married George McCauley, a soldier in the Revolution and a friend of her first husband.

Moose Lodge Bumped From Hot Stove Tourney

Salem's only remaining hope of having a representative in the state Hot Stove League baseball tournament in Alliance next month rests squarely on the shoulders of the Class F Fire Department squad which goes to the post

FISHER'S, ELJER TO CLASH
Fisher's News and Eljer Co. of the Class F Hot Stove League will play a regular season make-up game at 6 p.m. today at the Memorial South diamond.

at 3 this afternoon at the Memorial Park west diamond against a rugged Damascus Auction nine. The latest local club to bow out of district tourney play here was previously undefeated Moose Lodge of Class H which suffered a 13-1 drubbing at the hands of Alliance Buckeye Market 1 a.s. night at Kelley Park.

BY VIRTUE of its victory, Alliance Buckeye Market moves on to state tourney play. The other Class H representative in the state championships from the Salem district will be Purity Dairy-Beloit Ruritans who knocked off Sebring Ohio Pump 10-6 last night at Reilly Field.

Sebring Brown & Holt-Mudores Dairy Isle in Class F and Carrollton First National Bank in Class G chalked up victories last night to advance to the district finals in their respective divisions this afternoon.

Sebring whipped Carrollton Cox-Manfull 8-4 and the Carrollton Bankers edged Carrollton A's Foodliner 3-2.

THE SALEM MOOSE Lodge - Alliance Buckeye Market game lasted only three innings as the visitors locked up the win with a big 10-run explosion in the third inning. Alliance had gone into the frame with a narrow 3-1 lead.

Six Alliance singles, four walks and two Moose errors knocked the locals out of contention in the third inning. Salem's lone hit and only run in the game came in the second inning when Harry Ehrhart fanned but reached base when the Alliance catcher let the ball get away.

Don Woolf's single then plated his battery mate John Campbell.

Sebring Brown & Holt-Mudores Dairy Isle had little difficulty with hurler Bill Whitacre fanned 11 Carrollton batters. Eight of Sebring's nine starters collected at least one hit. Leadoff man Joe Rockwell was the big gun with a double and single.

JEFF TRAUTMAN tossed a neat two-hitter and whacked out a triple and double in a standout performance for Carrollton First National Bank in its 3-2 squeaker over A's Foodliner.

The district tourney will wind up today. Two survivors from each division will move on to the state tourney to be held in Alliance Aug. 4, 5, 11 and 12. Drawings for the state tournament will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in Memorial Hall Gymnasium at Mount Union College.

A total of 59 teams participated in the district tourney here, including 11 from Salem.

THE CLASS G game this afternoon between the Salem Firemen and Damascus Auction should bring out the fans. The hustling Damascus nine impressed everyone with the way they breezed past National Cleaners of Salem 10-3 last week.

However, the visitors will have their hands full with Manager Art Votaw's talented Firemen aggregation which no one has been able to touch in 14 league games and two tourney tilts this season.

Here is how the Salem District Hot Stove League Tournament shapes up going into the final afternoon of action today:

Angels Blow Game to Tigers

Long Sparks Yanks To Win Over Chisox

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

You've heard that one about how it does something to a ball player when he puts on pin stripe New York Yankees suit?

Well, here it comes again—in duplicate.

For exhibit A, let's present Dale Long.

The veteran first baseman was hammering the ball at a .167 clip for the San Francisco Giants in 1960, when the Yankees spirited Long over to the American League in mid-campaign. Long promptly hit .366 as the Yankees went on to the pennant. Then the Washington Senators snatched him away in the expansion draft. Long hit .249 for them in 1961, and .241 this year.

For exhibit B, let's take Long again.

The Yankees got him back early this month. In Friday night's game against the Chicago White Sox, he drove home one run with a sacrifice fly to put the Yankees ahead 3-2. The Sox tied it up.

Then, in the 12th inning, with two out, Long smashed a home run that gave the Yankees a 4-3 victory.

The victory gave the Yankees a 4-game bulge over the Los Angeles Angels, who blew one to the Detroit Tigers, 4-3, as the Tigers got three runs in the ninth.

Bob Allison homered in the ninth to give Camilo Pascual and the Minnesota Twins a 2-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Baltimore and Kansas City played still another squeaker, with the Orioles tying the game 1-1 in the bottom of the ninth, the A's going ahead, 2-1, in the tenth, and the home forces storming back for a 3-2 decision.

The tight pattern was broken in Washington where the Senators, the lowest scoring team in the league, demolished the Boston Red Sox 11-2 and 14-1 in a twin-night doubleheader.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers opened a 2-game lead by beating back the San Francisco Giants 3-1, on Johnny Podres' 5-hitter and Frank Howard's 3-run homer. The New York Mets stopped an 11-game losing streak by beating the St. Louis Cardinals 1-0 in a twin-night doubleheader, with the Cards winning the second game 6-5. Milwaukee stopped the Cincinnati win streak at nine, 7-5, the Chicago Cubs beat Houston 5-1, and Pittsburgh and Philadelphia split.

The Indians loaded the bases with none out in the fourth inning, but could touch the Cuban for only one run, due largely to outstanding defensive plays by shortstop Zorro Versalles and third baseman Rich Rollins.

Pascual and Perry (8-3) each gave up six hits, but Pascual had seven strikeouts, compared with Perry's two.

Barry Latman (4-6) was the Indians' mound choice today against Jim Kaat (9-9).

After the death of her first husband, Molly Pitcher (heroine of the Battle of Monmouth and whose real name was Mary Ludwig) married George McCauley, a soldier in the Revolution and a friend of her first husband.

DEATH COUNTS HIM OUT.—Boxer Sonny Nunez, 22, died several hours after he was knocked down by Rodrigo Contrera in fourth round of their featherweight preliminary bout in Phoenix, Ariz. Helping Nunez is his trainer.

Hamner Back In Majors With Knuckler

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Granny Hamner, the former Star Philadelphia Phillie shortstop trying to make a major league comeback as a pitcher, joined the Kansas City Athletics here Friday night for a tryout.

Obviously, he felt good just to be back in a major league uniform among friends he played beside three years ago.

After warming up on the sidelines, the 35-year-old right-hander took the mound and threw batting practice pitches for 15 minutes.

Each batter got a small dose of Hamner's specialty—a dancing knuckle ball which enabled him to post a 10-4 record with the Birmingham Triplets in the Class A Eastern League.

Some of the Kansas City batters mumbled to themselves as they swung at the knucklers — hardly the usual pitch for batting practice. Gino Cimoli shook his head in amazement at one pitch, and Ed Charles slammed his bat to the ground after merely tipping a couple balls.

Reds Lose, Bucs, Cards Split

Howard's Homer Beats Giants 3-1

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Howard finally is achieving a stature comparable to his height.

Southpaw Johnny Podres has found the nine-inning formula.

And the Los Angeles Dodgers have pulled out to a 2-game bulge over the San Francisco Giants in their struggle for National League supremacy.

Howard supplied the power with a 3-run homer, and Podres supplied the finesse with a 5-hitter as the Dodgers won the opener of their 3-game series with the second-place Giants 3-1 Friday night before 54,095—the largest crowd in Dodger Stadium's brief history.

Howard Blasting Ball

Howard, a 6-foot-7 slugger heralded as the "new Babe Ruth" when he first tucked his mammoth figure into a Dodger uniform, is beginning to fulfill his expected potential. His key homer against the Giants, No. 18 of the season, was his 13th in the last 35 games and gave him 43 runs batted in over the same span.

Podres, at the same time, has located that elusive 9-inning formula just when the Dodgers needed it most. Short-staffed with Sandy Koufax sidelined due to a finger injury, the league-leaders have found another stopper in Podres, who has hurled three complete games in the last four starts after failing to last the route in 13 previous outings.

Meanwhile, the two hottest teams in the league met at Cincinnati, where the Milwaukee Braves extended their winning streak to seven games while cutting off the Reds' at nine by defeating the defending champs 7-5.

Pirates End Skid

In other games, third-place Pittsburgh ended a 6-game losing skid by beating Philadelphia 4-1 in the second game of a twin-nighter after the Phils took the opener 5-3. The New York Mets snapped their 11-game losing streak with a 1-0 victory behind Al Jackson's third shutout in the opener of a twin-nighter before St. Louis took the nightcap 6-5 on Charley James' three-run homer. Chicago's Cubs belted Houston 5-1.

Howard, who has raised his batting average to .306, tagged Giants' starter Juan Marichal (13-7) for his homer in the second inning after singles by Tommy Davis and Ron Fairly. Podres (7-7) didn't allow a runner past second until the seventh.

Robinson Homers

The Braves built a 4-0 lead, but the Reds tied it 5-5 as Frank Robinson hit his 17th homer and Don Pavletich connected for his first in the majors. Milwaukee then won it in the seventh on singles by Del Crandell and Frank Bolling, a sacrifice and Lee Maye's sacrifice fly off Jim Bros-

(4-2). Rookie Claude Raymond (3-1) got the victory.

Two-run homers by Don Demeter and Ted Savage off Harvey Haddix (7-5) won the first game for the Phillies and Dallas Green (4-3), although the Pirates got 12 hits to Philadelphia's seven. Bob Friend (11-10) won it on a 6-hitter.

Jackson (5-12), who hadn't won since June 22, scattered nine Cardinal hits in the opener and came out a winner when the Mets scored an unearned run in the third on Clarence Coleman's bunt single, a sacrifice and an error. The triumph went to Bob Duhon, his first decision.

The Cubs moved ahead of the Colts into eighth place as Dick Ellsworth (6-14) went the route, although allowing 10 hits.

Cincy Organist Is 'Thumbed Out' By Umpire Conlan

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati baseball fans had what apparently was a new rule tossed at them Friday night in the game with Milwaukee and president Bill DeWitt started making inquiries immediately.

Halting play in the third inning, Umpire Jocko Conlan rushed to the public announcer and it was disclosed he had ordered "no organ music" while play was going on.

Throughout the season the Red-leg organist has played the "charge" trumpet call and the fans respond with a shout of "charge" to the Reds.

DeWitt said he never had heard of any such rule but will make immediate inquiries to find out if the ban exists.

Hot-Shot Competition Due In All Classes

World Horseshoe Tourney Starts Monday At Greenville

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The nation's horseshoe heaviest will settle the world championship in a 10-day tournament starting here Monday and running through Aug. 8.

The ringer tossers will offer a hot-shot competition, for the sport has come a long way from the barnyards and county fairs where it once was a leisurely way of passing the time.

This is the 26th world tournament sponsored by the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association of America, and more than 200 tossers are expected to vie in three classes for men, a women's division, and sections for old-timers and juniors.

Last year, at Muncie, Ind., 36 states and Canada were represented, and more than 5000 fans witnessed the last few evenings of competition.

Ohioan Defending Champ

Harold Reno of Sabina, Ohio, a bespectacled wispy of a man with the eye of an eagle and a perfect rhythmic tossing motion, is defending champion. At Muncie he tossed 2,194 ringers, clicking on 83.8 per cent of his pitches. In a July 4 exhibition here he had 61 ringers in 66 tries, so he's ready for his challengers.

Ted Allen of Boulder, Colo., who finished second to Reno last year, will be back for another try. He has dominated the sport for years, having held the world title 10 times since 1933. Also making this year's run will be Don Titcomb of Los Gatos, Calif., the 1960 king who did not compete at Muncie.

Both Allen and Titcomb are champions of their states. Other state titleholders in the field are Ken Jensen of Michigan, Ralph Maddox of West Virginia, Curt Day of Indiana, James Johnson of Kentucky, Charles Stephens of Florida, and Jim Ohler of Pennsylvania.

Gone Are The Days

The tournament is a polished-up version of the casual game of a few decades ago when discarded horseshoes were tossed at wooden pegs. Today's horseshoes are an arbitrary weight of 2½ pounds, and are tossed at metal stakes 40 feet apart.

Also gone is the old "leaner" which counted two points. Now only ringers, and shoes which wind up within six inches of the peg, count points. Ringers by opponents cancel each other, neither counting.

The term "four deads" is heard often. That comes when a player's pair of ringers are topped by two by the opponents—erasing all points for the throw. The tournament record for "four deads" is 10 in a row.

Greenville's 10,500 population is cranking up for the big show. More than 200 residents have agreed to house the contestants. The Darke County Horseshoe Club and the chamber of commerce have provided $1500 to run the event, along with 18 fully-lighted clay courts. Most of the pitching is done at night.

Roads passing the courts will be closed for the duration, and bleachers for the fans are being erected.

200 Qualifying Throws
For three days, starting Monday, each contestant will make 200 qualifying throws. The number of ringers decides the class in which he'll compete in the final rounds—a round robin in which each throws 35 games. The worst lost totals decide the champion.

Joe Wilkinson off Akron won last year's "Old Timer's" title; Harold Wolfe of Cedarville, Ohio, the Class C crown, and Gary Roberts of Lucasville, Ohio, the junior. Back to defend the Class A laurels is Bill Porter of Levittown, Pa.

But getting most attention is Vicki Winston of Lamonte, Mo. She won the women's championship at Muncie last year—her fourth trip to the throne.

70 Cars Due Sunday

At Sharon Speedway

HARTFORD, O. — More than 70 cars are expected to be in the lineup Sunday for the regular program of stock car racing at Sharon Speedway. The drivers will again race on a three-division program with guaranteed prize money for the winners.

The three divisions of racing will include the super-modifieds, the sportsman and the stocks. Each has a feature event to top off the portion of the program allotted to them.

The super-modifieds race in a 25-lap feature. The sportsman in a 20-lap feature and the stocks in a 15-lap feature. Two heat races and an Australian Pursuit in each class complete the 12-event program.

The first race gets the green flag at 8 p.m. Time trials are scheduled for 6:45 in order to qualify the large field of cars expected. Gates to the speedway open at 6 p.m.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

A word from THERON at the Old Country Store

I am sitting here looking out the window at a mountain of roof coating in 5 gal. buckets. I told George Julian who owns the Paint Products Co. of Danville, Ohio to send me a truck load. I didn't know he had such big trucks. If you need any good roof coating or know someone who does would you come or send them out to the Country Store. For only $1.99 each you can have all you need. If we don't have enough more is available.

Princess Margaret is rapidly making the grade in her new passion for water skiing.

Friends said the princess, having weathered a few preliminary duckings, now frequently can make it to the end of the run with out getting her bathing cap wet.

Though lacking the dash of her husband, Lord Snowdon, Margaret has mastered ski stance in 400-yard runs over a private club lake on the edge of London.

A newspaper picture of the Princess, streaking across the lake in skin-tight rubber suit and flowered swim cap, looked like boosting interest in this sport that few but the hardiest care to tackle in England's chilly waters.

Pamela Mason is suing actress Loretta Young and Lyl Productions for $137,800 in a dispute over clothing for the Masons' 13-year-old daughter, Portland.

The complaint, filed Friday in Santa Monica, Calif., claims that Portland was wrongfully fired from a co-starring role in Miss Young's television show, "Christine's Children."

Also named as defendants were CBS and the show's sponsors, Lever Bros., Papermate and the Gillette Co.

Carol Burnett, the girl with the big smile and expressive face, is breaking box office records in Dallas.

She has vaulted from the slapstick sketches of the Garry Moore television show to one of the biggest drawing cards of the summer theater circuit.

Her revue, which also features Marty ("Hello Dere") Allen and Steve Rossi, is sold out for the remainder of its two-week run in Dallas and is assured of setting new attendance and money records for the 4,120-seat Music Hall.

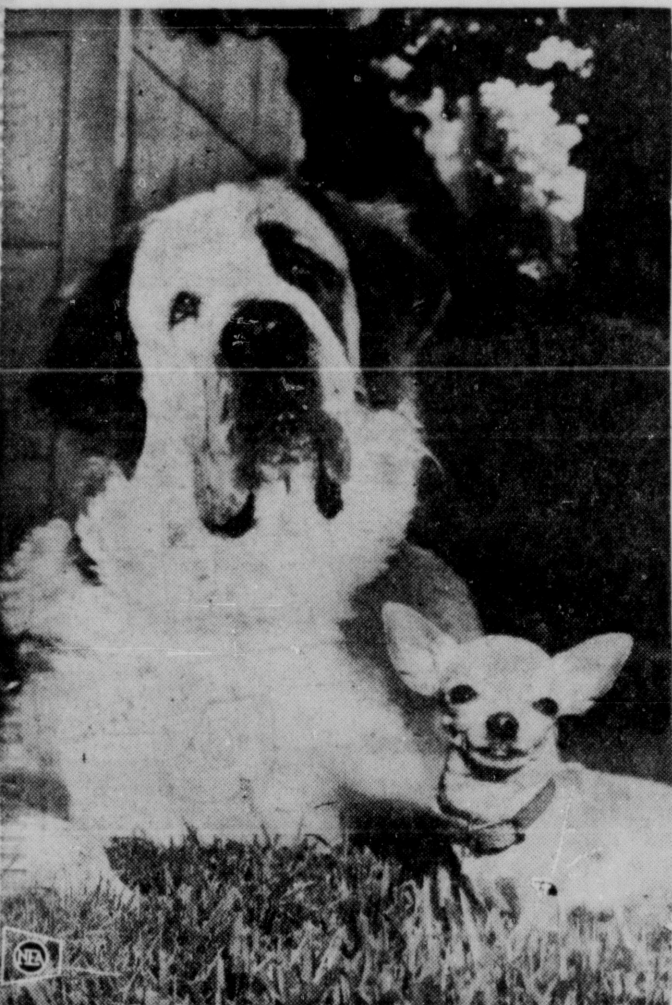

Idaho's Republican Gov. Robert E. Smylie announced Friday he will not seek the U.S. Senate seat vacated by the death last Monday of Sen. Henry C. Dworshak, R-Idaho.

He said it was more important to him and the state to defeat the pro-gambling Democratic nominee for governor, Vernon K. Smith, in November. Smith advocates state-sanctioned gambling.

Smylie also indicated he plans to appoint an interim senator to serve until the November general election when a successor to Dworshak will be elected.

YOUNGSTOWN MAN KILLED

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Earl R. Dressel, 26, of Youngstown, was killed Friday when a rope being used to load a tree limb onto a truck broke and the limb hit him.

AGE BEFORE BEAUTY — Despite their size, the St. Bernard is a mere three years old, while the tiny Chihuahua is all of five-and-a-half. The 180-pound hefty and the pound-and-a-half pip-squeak were entries in an annual Kids' Dog Show at an amusement park in Palisades, N. J.

TRIUMPHANT TRIANGLES—A series of simple equilateral triangles forms the inspiring theme for this modern Pilgrim Congregational Church in Birmingham, Ala. The massive triangles, 54 feet high, support a corrugated sheet steel roof which is coated with bright blue plastic. Huge expanses of glass fill the ends of the 308-foot-long church.

Human Error Cited In Venus-Shot Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An $8 million Atlas-Agena B rocket boosting a $4 million Mariner 1 spacecraft toward Venus was destroyed last Sunday because of a human mathematical mistake.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported Friday that the error occurred in an equation that calculated the course the rocket should follow to start Mariner 1 on the proper route to Venus.

The error sent the rocket so far off course that radio signals from the ground were unable to correct it and the range safety officer destroyed the vehicle.

NASA said the Atlas did everything it was told to do by the computer feeding it the trajectory information from the equation, but "examination of data showed there was an error in the original guidance equation."

The equation was worked out by personnel at Space Technology Laboratories, Los Angeles. They are drawing a new formula for a second Venus shot, scheduled in about three weeks.

That will be the United States' last chance until 1964 to explore Venus. The bright planet moves into a favorable position for only a few weeks every 19 months.

Russians Launch Unmanned Satellite

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union launched today the seventh unmanned earth satellite of its current summer series. The launching was announced by Tass, which said the Sputnik carried various scientific instruments.

ACCIDENT IN LISBON

LISBON — Robert D. Miller, 19, Lisbon RD 5, forfeited a $15 bond in Mayor Dean Stockmen's court Friday evening after he was cited for failing to yield right-of-way following a collision of two cars on E. Washington St. at 7:15 p.m.

Miller, going west, sideswiped a car driven by Homer R. Fowler, 37, Lisbon RD 1, which was traveling east, police reported.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Saturday, July 28, the 209th day of 1962. There are 156 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1777, the council of what is now the state of Vermont appointed a Committee of Sequestration. The group was given power to seize the property of all persons who had gone over to the British.

On this date: In 1750, the composer, Johann Sebastian Bach, died.

In 1821, Peru proclaimed its independence.

In 1914, Austria-Hungary declared war in Serbia.

In 1940, British forces drove back an attack on the Mediterranean island of Malta.

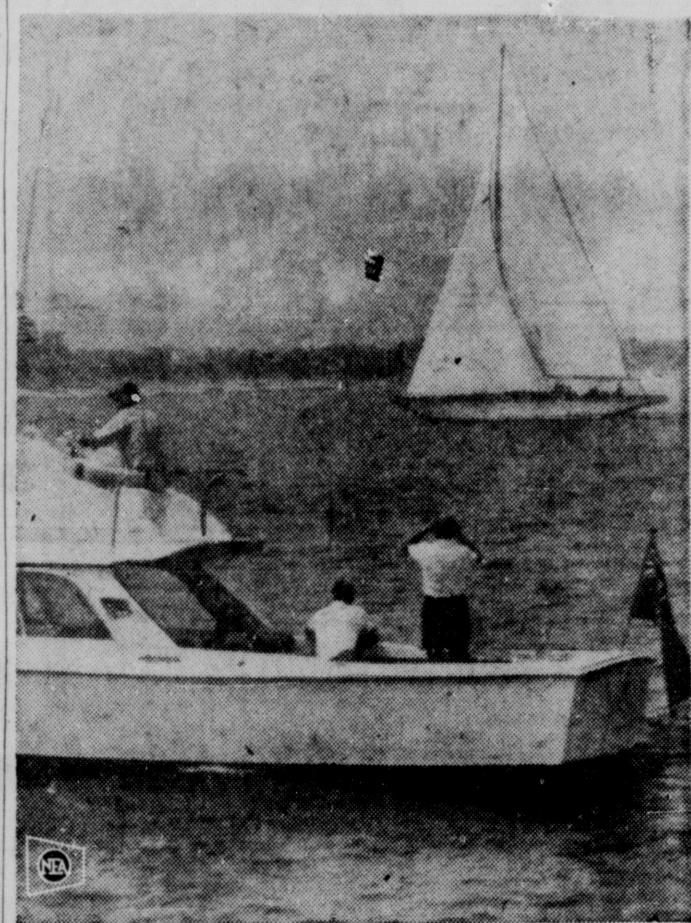

In 1943, the American 7th Army pushed forward into Sicily.

Today's birthdays: The nation's first lady, Jacqueline Kennedy, is 33. British statesman Selwyn Lloyd is 58.

Thought for today: A good laugh and a long sleep are the best cures in the doctor's book (Irish proverb).

OIL CO. GIVES REPORT

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Oil Co. reported Friday gains in operating volumes during the first half of 1962, but a decrease in net income. J. C. Donnell II, president, said the reduction in earnings was due to extremely low prices for refined products.

SEA SCOUTS — Australian skippers Archie Robertson, center, and Jock Sturrock, right, who will pilot the Australian challenger Gretel in the America's Cup Race off Newport in September, spend their vacation to advantage. On a chartered cruiser they watch in trial runs American yachts which might be selected to defend. In this case, the Aussies are observing Columbia, winner last time.

Humane Officers Slip 'Mickey' to Mean Dog

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — McDuff, a 125-pound St. Bernard dog who had staged a hostile siege of several days at his masters' home, finally was subdued Friday with a serving of kidney-laced liberally with sleeping pills.

Humane officers finally slipped the huge canine the "Mickey" and took him to a kennel for observation after he had bitten a little girl twice.

McDuff was the pet of Mark Gebhard, 11, son of Dr. Paul Gebhard, director of the Institute for Sex Research at Indiana University.

Mrs. Gebhard said the once-friendly McDuff suddenly showed signs of ill temper Monday and developed a viciousness that kept even the family out of the yard until the dog's attention was diverted. "We had to sneak in," she said.

Mrs. Gebhard finally called authorities after the dog twice bit her daughter, Carla, 7.

6 Young Drivers Receive Penalties

LISBON — Traffic court hearings at the Courthouse this week resulted in the suspension of the driving permits of two young motorists, the fining of two others and the forfeiting of bonds by two more.

Charles Raymond Buchheit, 17, of East Liverpool was given a 60-day suspension for reckless operation and Joseph Edwin Hall, 17, of East Liverpool, 30 days for passing in a no passing zone.

Gabriel Charles Fornari, 16, and Robert John Tisch, 17, both of Weirton, W. Va., were each fined $20 for misuse of driving permits.

David R. Giffin, 17, Bridgeport, and Charles G. Phillips, 17, Daisey Town, Pa., each forfeited a $15 bond for speeding.

Salineville Man's License Suspended

LISBON — Kelly Howard, 19, Salineville RD 1, received a suspension of his driver's license for six months under the state's 12-point demerit system.

Common Pleas Court Judge Raymond S. Buzzard suspended the permit after a report from the state department of motor vehicles showed five violations:

Driving while license was under suspension, two reckless driving charges, speeding and a red light violation.
